

OUR DAILY BREAD Sliced Thin by The Editor Alex. H. Washburn

Every Time the Citizens Try to Do Something the Bureaucrats Begin Attack

Here's the latest in the fight to abolish the office of Hempstead County School Supervisor:

ITEM ONE: Supervisor Elmer Brown is personally going around the county telling citizens that if his office is abolished then all the local school districts of the county will be consolidated with Hope.

As usual, Mr. Brown is inflating his personally-held office far beyond its true importance. He knows as well as you do that you can't consolidate school districts without a specific vote of the people.

And what we are voting on next Dec. 5 is not school district consolidation. All we are voting on is another post for the County Board of Education, in an effort to gain control of that board and abolish Mr. Brown's office.

ITEM TWO: The Star prints both sides of a controversy. Late Wednesday a communication was brought to our office by Milton H. Peebles and Francis S. Key, superintendents of the Saratoga and Spring Hill schools, respectively. It was a statement justifying the existence of the office of County School Supervisor, signed by six rural school superintendents. You read it on yesterday's front page, in the same space and position given our editorials attacking the office. Now let's take a second look at the superintendents' statement.

What the superintendents have given you is the ancient outline of the County School Supervisor office from back yonder when the county had 25 school districts instead of today's eight — and when the rural population of Hempstead county was 26,000 instead of today's 11,000.

In every other line you read that the County School Supervisor "keeps records" — of monies, of school teachers' certificates, etc.

But he handles practically none of that money, and no teacher certificates at all.

The County School Supervisor is a secondhand copier of records other men and other offices have made. And the expense of maintaining this Copy-Cat office is $10,472.64 a year according to the current (1961-62) budget — all out of public school funds — and for a political, not an educational, purpose.

Supervisor Elmer Brown threatens you with "school consolidations yet to come" if his office is abolished; but as we have pointed out, it's the consolidation of the past that has made his office obsolete and condemned it to abolition when the voters go to the polls in the Dec. 5 school election.

ITEM THREE: Yesterday your Editor checked the courthouse records and came up with this interesting fact:

All last year County School Supervisor Elmer Brown worked half a day teaching mathematics and algebra at Spring Hill High School and was paid therefor $150 a month for nine months.

If he earned his Spring Hill pay he certainly didn't earn more than half a day's pay as County School Supervisor. But it's that kind of an office. If it can get by with the Supervisor absent half the time, we can get by without any office at all.

ITEM FOUR: After the filing deadline had closed you were treated to some football razzle-dazzle in yesterday's news-story about the county-wide post for the County Board of Education.

Milton Peebles, whose term as board member is expiring, failed to file for re-election; but Dr. Forney Holt of Hope filed instead.

But the man committed to abolition of the County School Supervisor is Herbert M. Stephens of Blevins, whom Dr. Holt will oppose. We urge you to support and vote for Mr. Stephens for the County Board of Education post next Dec. 5.

The Star has gone to great lengths in this campaign to support fairly the principle of county-wide representation. "Hope already has a member on the County Board of Education — Ralph Lehman, elected in 1959 on a platform to abolish the County School Supervisor office. Therefore we felt it only fair to nominate today's abolition candidate from somewhere out in the county, Mr. Stephens' post being county-at-large. And Mr. Stephens, a long-time school friend who vigorously supports the Supervisor abolition drive, was the logical man to be nominated. Hope voters will recognize the injustice of trying to grab two posts on the County Board for our town while other areas are shut out.

ITEM FIVE: Your editor has a bad habit of sticking his head out of the cavalry stockade and inviting the Indians to shoot at him — and they always do. And this time too.

You are aware that all we are trying to do in this campaign is to abolish the office of County School Supervisor — operating on a schedule outlined by the legislature in Act 159 of 1957. The law spells out how citizens themselves may get rid of the Supervisor office if they so choose.

This is all we are trying to do — and yet we are instantly confronted by interference, propaganda, and argument. Not from other private citizens and voters, mind you, but from self-appointed advisors from the ranks of salaried schoolmen — and, with particular emphasis, the half-a-day-working occupant of the office that is under attack.

Voting citizens would do well to remember this, and defend their authority against bureaucrats when election day rolls around Dec. 5.

Fined in Duck Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — James A. Sims, 25, of Harrisburg, paid Thursday a $125 fine for illegally selling wild ducks and added a $27 penalty payment. He was arrested Wednesday for failing to pay the fine assessed against him Sept. 14 in federal court at Jonesboro. He was held Wednesday night in Pulaski County Jail.

JFK Says U. S. Must Back Talk With Strength

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — President Kennedy says the United States must be willing to negotiate cold war issues from a position of strength. To preach either war or surrender, he says, does a disservice to the nation.

As the Western Allies, including West Germany, renew efforts to unify their stand toward the Soviet Union, Kennedy Thursday made clear these views:

"To encourage 'appeasement or war, suicide or surrender,' will divide the nation, create uncertainty among allies and inspire doubt in the Communist block of the West's readiness to defend its rights.

"The United States cannot impose its will on others," he said. "There cannot be an American solution for every world problem."

The United States will never negotiate merely for the sake of negotiation, nor will it ever subject freedom to negotiation. But so long as vital interests and goals are clear, "we have nothing to fear from negotiations at the appropriate time and nothing to gain by refusing to play a part in them."

Talking out East-West disputes will succeed only if each side can find success in the result. In effect, neither side can expect total victory.

Although the French and others may see weakness in taking the initiative in bargaining with Moscow, "this nation cannot abdicate to its adversaries," the setting and conditions of negotiations.

Kennedy, accused by some of failing to marshal public support for Western aims, set forth these warnings and objectives at the outset of a western tour.

Dressed in an academic robe, he addressed 11,000 faculty members, students and guests at the University of Washington's 100th anniversary convocation.

Earlier, Kennedy received a hearty welcome from thousands on the streets of Seattle, major city in a state which went for ex-Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 election. Later, he was applauded lustily by some 3,000 Democrats who spread over four hotel ballrooms and into a restaurant across the street for a $100-a-plate dinner honoring Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash.

Magnuson has completed 25 years in Congress.

The Seattle reception was larger and louder than Kennedy received as a candidate last year. It encouraged his effort to bolster Magnuson's bid for re-election in 1962.

In a switch of plans, Kennedy will forgo a Navy-Marine exercise at San Diego Saturday and attend the funeral of House Speaker Sam Rayburn at Bonham, Tex. That night he addresses a Democratic fund raising dinner in Los Angeles.

Lions Plan Annual Yule Auction

The Hope Lions Club have their annual Christmas auction December 4, 5, and 6. It will originate in the Keesey Shoe Store building on 2nd St. and will start each afternoon at 5:30 p. m. and continue until about 10 p. m. The headquarters will be open all day each day and Santa Claus will be in the headquarters to greet children and parents all day. Santa is coming to town on an invitation issued by the retail promotion Association of the Hope Chamber of Commerce. The Lions are already contacting local merchants and businesses for items to be auctioned off. KXAR will carry the auction as a public service to the Lions Club and the community for the 12th year. Many applications have already been received by the Lions Club for baskets.

Wants the Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board may begin collecting state taxes on beer and liquor sold on military posts, ABC Director Rulla Fitch said Thursday. He said the ABC has been discussing the situation with military officials. The tax is $2.50 a gallon on liquor and $5 on 32 gallons of beer, or 35 cents per case. Some other state collect a state tax, Fitch said.

Killer Rocket Has Passed All Tests

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — A Nike Zeus missile killer rocket has passed a test previously flunked by two other Nikes, for the first time demonstrating its capability of outracing liquid fuel missiles.

The rocket's purpose: to seek out and destroy incoming nuclear tipped missiles, high in the sky. The Nike Zeus is supposed to demolish the invaders with its own nuclear warhead.

The shot down the Pacific missile range Thursday tested the launch system and the first two stages of the three-stage solid fuel rocket. Two previous tests ended spectacularly — when the rockets veered off course and had to be blown up.

Nike Zeus is a superfast missile. Its solid fuel engine kicks it aloft 10 times faster than a liquid fuel Atlas missile. Next year, the Army says, Nike Zeus missiles fired from Kwajalein Island will be hurled at Atlas missiles launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., over the Pacific.

But first, the third stage of the Nike Zeus must be tested with the other two. This is scheduled possibly for next month.

The white-finned 48-foot rocket zoomed into the clouds Thursday seconds after blastoff.

After it barreled far down the missile track it was deliberately destroyed to avoid endangering ships at sea. The Army would not say how far the missile traveled before it was blown up.

Attention was focused on Thursday's test because:

1. Reports that the U.S. is developing the mysterious neutron bomb, to be capable of creating an intense radiation burst. A Nike Zeus tipped with such a device could kill attacking missiles at much greater range than with conventional nuclear warheads, scientists say.

2. Speculation that Russia tested antimissile warheads in recent high altitude nuclear blasts.

Paisley Has Book Week Program

In celebration of Book Week, Nov. 12-18 the fifth grade of Paisley gave a program in the school. Virginia Lee was the program chairman and gave the following program:

Flag Salute, Donald Braden; Book Houses, Howard Stroud and song by Fifth Grade; Play, Victoria and the Book Folks, announced by Nancy Lough.

Terry Fry was stage manager and at work in the background was Sandra Salice, Darlene Ritzell, Jo McKamie, Terry Fry, Kenny Mullins, Pam Faris, William Whitton and Howard Stroud and Sherry Dickson played for the song.

Railman Dies

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Costa Pjerick, 71, of Minneapolis, a retired ore handler for Great Northern Railroad died Thursday after he jumped or fell from a fourth-floor hospital window. Deputy Coroner Dr. W. K. Lee ruled suicide.

Duck Sellers Sentenced by Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Seven men convicted of illegal sale of wild ducks were sentenced by U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young today.

The seven were among those arrested in a crackdown on alleged violators of federal regulations on migratory waterfowl last March.

Tony Zerlingo of Stuttgart received the stiffest sentence. He was sentenced to six months in prison and fined $500. In addition he was placed on probation for 2 1/2 years.

He was accused in five cases involving alleged illegal sales of 700 wild ducks.

Each of the other defendants was put on probation for two years.

The sentences and fines imposed against them were:

B. R. (Jack) Wages, three months in jail and $250 fine.

Rex Leach, 30 days in jail and $250 fine.

Bobby Joe Worringer, 30 days in jail and $200 fine.

Charles Johnson, fined $200.

Ira Myers, fined $150.

Gene Rose, fined $200.

All except Johnson gave Stuttgart area addresses.

Johnson was listed as of Humphrey.

Travelers Spent $150 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A report issued today said that out-of-state visitors spent nearly $150 million last year at Arkansas establishments entering directly to travelers.

That was nearly half the total sales of traveling-serving business establishments, according to the report.

The businesses covered include service stations, hotels, restaurants and recreation centers.

The report was compiled by the Highway Department, in co-operation with the Bureau of Public Roads and the University of Arkansas.

Dies in Wreck

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — W. G. Schneider, 76, was killed Thursday when his car collided with a truck on U.S. Highway 65 here. The truck driver, Frank Walkley, 60, of Evansville, Ind., was not hurt.

U. S. Rushing Military Aid to Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today the United States has speeded up deliveries of military aid to South Viet Nam.

He told a news conference discussions are under way on possible additional aid to the South Vietnamese, hard pressed by what he termed Communist infiltration from the north.

As for the Berlin buildup, the secretary said "we have no present plans for calling any additional large numbers of men from the National Guard or reserve to active duty."

The buildup which began last summer is "proceeding at least as rapidly as we planned," McNamara said.

He denied published reports that he intended keeping reservists on active duty after their Congress-authorized year in uniform has ended.

McNamara said U.S. military forces have been increased by about 300,000 men in the United States and by about 45,000 men in Europe.

On other matters, McNamara:

1. Indicated that the next military budget may top $50 billion and that authorized Army strength will be pegged at more than 329,000 men. The current budget is $46.7 billion. The Army has been building toward a strength above one million, but there have been reports a hold-the-line order is being considered.

2. Said in response to questions he feels that U.S. cities are "at least as likely" as purely military targets to be hit in the event of an enemy nuclear attack.

3. Said no final decision has been reached to start production of the Nike Zeus antimissile. There have been reports that the Pentagon has finally decided to allot money to start limited production of the Nike Zeus.

4. Said Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was an able Army officer and that he dislikes seeing any man with Walker's ability resign from the Army.

Walker, center of a dispute over policy on public utterances by military officers, resigned his commission two weeks ago. He had been rebuked by the Army on grounds he tried to influence voting by his troops and their families in the 1960 Congressional elections.

Calvary Church to Have Guest Speaker

Dr. John Miller, Camden physician, will speak Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at Calvary Baptist Church. He is well known for his missionary work, having spent several vacation periods working among Indians of the San Blas Islands off Panama.

His message will be illustrated with color slides taken recently. The Rev. J. D. Passmore urges everyone to come and hear Dr. Miller.

Helped New Men

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., said Thursday that the late Sam Rayburn helped more new congressmen get on their feet in the House of Representatives than any other man. He said Rayburn had been a father to him and had always tried to instill a high level of conduct into congressmen.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

Bill Lawrence, son of Dr. L. T. Lawrence of Hope, will be among the 67 members of the Austin College A Capella and Brass Choirs scheduled for a six day performance tour of cities in Texas and Louisiana Dec. 7-12. The college is located at Sherman, Texas.

Congressman Owen Harris will again visit Hope on Tuesday, Nov. 21, when he will address a joint meeting of local civic clubs at a noon luncheon.

The publications "American City" and "Municipal South" carried stories in their October issues about the new lighting system in Hope. The American City article also shows a picture of downtown Hope before and after the new lights were installed.

Now if the city only had the residential streets to go with the new lights.

A fairly large group attended yesterday's meeting of the Golden Age Club and plans were made to hold a Christmas party on Thursday, Dec. 14, at 12 noon at the Youth Center. The next regular meeting is 2 p. m. on Dec. 7. G. T. Ross won the prize at yesterday's meeting.

Ballots have been tabulated and five new members have been elected to the Chamber of Commerce Board. They are Olin Lewis, Haskell Jones, Fred Gray, James Pilkinton and Bill Gunter. The newly elected group will serve for three year terms starting Jan. 1, 1962.

City Police report a total of 32 deer checked at the local station so far this week.

Department Store Sales Are Up

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reports that department store sales in the week ended Nov. 11 were three per cent above those of the similar week last year.

The only reporting center showing a decline was Memphis where sales were off one per cent.

Louisville climbed nine per cent; Little Rock, five per cent; St. Louis two per cent, and sales in seven smaller district cities were three per cent higher.

Sales in the district to date are even with those of 1960.

East Coast Blasted by Rain, Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow, rain and strong winds spread across northern sections of the nation today from the Plateau region to the Atlantic Coast.

The first heavy snowstorm of the season which hit the Midwest region Thursday moved northeastward and was centered over the Georgian Bay area of Lake Huron.

Snows tapered off in most Western and Midwest areas but it was cold in most sections. Snow falls measured about six inches in Michigan and Minnesota, and four inches in Iowa and Wisconsin. Damaging rains preceded the snow in some areas.

Gale warnings remained in effect for the Great Lakes. Strong winds also were indicated to move into the Northeast along with colder air.

Light snow fell during the night in the central and southern plateau region, the central Rockies and the Upper Mississippi Valley. Light rain and showers hit areas east and southeastward through the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and the Atlantic Coast states.

Temperatures dropped to zero and lower in some sections of Wyoming this morning. Freezing weather extended from the Upper Great Lakes southwestward into the southern Plains and westward into the Pacific Coast region.

Readings were in the 30s from Texas northeastward and eastward into New England, in the 30s and 40s west of the Appalachians and in the 50s and 60s across most of the Southland.

Poultrymen to Discuss U. S. Controls

Broiler growers and all who are interested in any phase of the broiler industry in southwestern Arkansas will be given an opportunity to discuss proposed federal controls on broiler production at a meeting which will be held Monday at 7 p. m. in the Bodewy high school auditorium.

The Southwest Arkansas Poultry Producers' Association recently voted in favor of controls at the farm level. Feed companies in Georgia are pushing for controls at the hatchery level and broiler leaders in other states have other ideas as to how controls would be practiced, according to T. J. Silvey, president of the local association.

To date leaders of the Arkansas Poultry Federation have opposed federal controls and Mr. Silvey has invited the federation to have a speaker at Monday's meeting.

"We want to hear the question of controls argued from every standpoint before we take final action on our proposal that controls be at the farm level," said Mr. Silvey.

A discussion of the so-called guaranteed profit contract for growers will also be discussed pro and con Monday night. "Many growers," he said, "feel these contracts are largely responsible for the present chaos in the broiler business."

A large attendance of interested growers and industry representatives is expected and all will be given an opportunity to be heard, said the SAPPN president.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus contributed $3,500 from his emergency fund Thursday to the Southern Interstate Nuclear Energy Compact, sponsored by the Southern Governors' Conference to develop peacetime uses of nuclear energy.

Troops Rushed to Bottle Up Congo Killers

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The United Nations sped Malayan troops to Kindu today to pen up Congolese army butchers of 13 Italian U.N. airmen for punishment.

Planedons of blue-helmeted Malayans were flown to the Lualaba River port in Kivu province with orders to encircle and disarm the killers and others in a force of 1,000 reportedly incited to mutiny by the Congo's Lumumbist vice premier, Antoine Gizenga.

About 400 of the drunken and undisciplined soldiery — underled by a 200-man Malayan contingent on duty at the Kindu Airfield — shot and cut up the Italians near the town prison Saturday.

Cries of "They are Flemish (Belgians)" accompanied the massacre. Parts of the bodies were tossed to excited spectators.

The military mob had set upon the Italians as they dined in the Malayan officers' mess after landing two transports carrying powdered milk and hospital supplies.

The U.N. organization in the Congo, headed by Sture Linner of Sweden, demanded immediate arrest of the Congolese commander at Kindu (who disavowed responsibility by declaring "you know how soldiers are") and establishment of a U.N.-Congolese commission to seek out "the remaining culprits."

In a report to New York, Linner said all resources of the U.N. Congo command would be used to disarm the Congolese, seal off the Kindu area and round up all suspects.

"Pieces of the bodies were distributed to the large crowd that gathered to watch the massacre," Linner said, "and some parts of the bodies were also hung at town squares where they were present."

"Two mutilated bodies were dragged through the main streets of Kindu and exhibited. All the remains of the bodies were then thrown into the river."

Official reports from Kindu residents said hands and feet chopped from the airmen were handed around as trophies. A severed hand was tossed on the deck of a World Health Organization physician as a gesture of contempt.

U.N. spokesman George Ivan Smith said the U.N. handed a letter to Premier Cyrille Adoula insisting on punitive action.

"Though it was left open for Adoula's regime to assume responsibility, the U.N. indicated it intends to carry out the punishment itself."

"We have to create a set of conditions in which we can take any action required," Smith told newsmen.

B&PW Cake Sale Next Monday Night

The Hope Business and Professional Women's Club will have its annual "Door to Door" fruit cake sale on Monday night, Nov. 20 from 6:30 to 8:30. All proceeds go to benefit the student loan fund.

These pecan party cakes are delicious rich with choice native pecans, glazed pineapple and red cherries, bleached raisins and a delectable batter.

These cakes make a delightful gift for Christmas and for only $1.50 per vacuum packed can.

The public's generous response will be most appreciated by all club members. Remember—Monday night, Nov. 20, from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Cancer Group Meets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Division of the American Cancer Society elected Dr. William Martin Eisele of Hot Springs its president Thursday. Other new officers are Louis Haven Jr., of Forrest City, vice president; Mrs. W. R. Brooksher, Fort Smith, secretary; and W. Barney Fitch, Fort Smith, treasurer.

Dognappers Collect a $25 Reward

LA PUENTE, Calif. (AP) —

But there's no hero to thank: Tony's mother had to pay $25 ransom to a teen-ager.

The Pasadena Independent today reported this story of Peaches' abduction and return:

Tony was walking to the candy store with Peaches and a chum when a car pulled up Sunday afternoon. Two teen-agers jumped out, grabbed the dog, told Tony, "We're taking him for a ride" — and left the child in tears.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Hewitt, Tony's parents, summoned police. But no clues turned up. Hewitt, a cement contractor, says the dog is worth $350. Youths have been stealing dogs from neighbors. Hewitt says, and selling them.

On Monday, Mrs. Hewitt went to the scene of the crime, a nearby bowling alley parking lot. She asked several teen-agers about the dog. They shook their heads.

Then she offered $25 reward and one youth said: "I may be able to help—but I don't want to get mixed up with the law."

Mrs. Hewitt promised not to identify him to police, and the boy, about 16 or 17, left. That night Mrs. Hewitt heard from an anonymous, but apparently youthful, phone caller, who said: "You can get the dog back if you'll meet me in three minutes at a church parking lot."

Mrs. Hewitt rushed to the lot. Minutes later, the boy appeared with Peaches and demanded $25 ransom, saying it has to go to the boys who stole the dog. Mrs. Hewitt gave him the money. The boy returned the dog and fled.

Today Hewitt is offering $50 reward for arrest of the dognappers, but adds: "I don't want anything done to the boy who returned the dog."

Terry Jo previously had been reported lost with four others, including her parents and a brother, when a chartered ketch, the Blue Belle, went down in a sudden squall 50 miles northwest of Nassau, Bahamas.

But at 11:17 a. m. Thursday a message came from a merchant ship, the Captain Theo, saying a child had been picked up from a life raft. The skipper, named Couthondotis, requested medical advice from the Coast Guard.

The skipper of the Blue Belle, Capt. Julian Harvey, 45, was found in a lifeboat with the body of Terry Jo's sister, Renee, 7, on Monday and was taken to Nassau by a passing freighter. Harvey was suffering from shock and exposure. He said he found the body of Renee floating in a lifejacket.

Also aboard the 60-foot ketch on a cruise were Terry Jo's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Duperrault and Mrs. Mary Dene Harvey, wife of the skipper.

Arkadelphia Plant to Stay Open

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) —
Signing of a new power contract which will enable Reynolds Metals Co., to keep its aluminum reduction plant here open through the first six months of 1962 was announced Wednesday.

Arkansas Power & Light Co., joined Reynolds in the announcement.

The plant has been operating at 20 per cent of capacity since last January when Reynolds threatened to close it because power costs were too high.

Reynolds, AP&L and the Southwestern Power Administration agreed, after a meeting with Gov. Orval E. Faubus at the state capitol on a compromise power contract which enabled Reynolds to keep operating on a curtailed basis.

Reynolds said the new power contract would permit increasing production to 30 per cent of capacity. The announcement said rates would be about the same as Reynolds now pays under the current contract, although SPA is not participating in the new pact.

Since January, the plant has had 150 to 200 employees. The normal force is 600.

Although bauxite was discovered in Arkansas in 1897, the first shipment of 20 tons was not made until 1896.

Adenauer, JFK Apart on One Point

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer appeared today to be in sharp disagreement over how hard the Western powers should press a demand on the Soviet Union for removal of the Berlin wall.

The issue of the Communist-built wall sealing off East Berlin from West Berlin now seems to become a major topic of discussion in the meeting between Adenauer and Kennedy.

The West German chancellor is due to arrive Sunday for talks with the President on policies the Western powers should follow in any negotiations with the Soviet Union for settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Meanwhile some further statement of the U.S. position on this and other Berlin policy questions may be forthcoming for this afternoon from Secretary of State Dean Rusk who scheduled a news conference.

Rusk also had opportunity at the news conference to spell out current U.S. policy on assistance to the hard pressed government of South Viet Nam. There have been reports during the past several days from Saigon that American military assistance is being substantially increased.

As far as the Berlin wall is concerned, the United States, it is said, agrees that the Western powers cannot do less than insist on the wall's destruction and the restoration of freer movement of people between East and West Berlin. But in official quarters here there is no real hope that the Soviets will accept such a proposition.

From the U.S. point of view it does not appear, moreover, to be an absolute necessity for an East-West agreement on the future of West Berlin.

He Would Recall the Past

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Date for her with a very nice boy.

But my girl friend said no. Soon after, she met the boy at her sister's place of work and liked him.

Since then we've had no peace in our office. She can hardly wait for closing time so that she can pick up the sister and by chance, meet the boy. Last week he went into the service and has asked the two sisters to write him. Actually, he never took either out, so there would be no conflict.

Would my girl friend appear to be chasing him if she did drop him a line now and then? She will go along with whatever you say. —T

Dear T.: The chasing would be purely subconscious and therefore quite in order since this dreamboat made the suggestion himself.

Even so, the girl friend stands a better chance if she plays hard to get. Tell her to let him write first.

Dear Helen: You say "talk things out." My husband agrees in principle but when I try to settle our problems this way he rants, raves and blames me for all his troubles. Our three boys have run away from home because of how he treated them and me. What do I do now? —Confused

Dear Confused: Find those boys first. If your husband won't listen to reason go to your local domestic relations court. It is his responsibility—not yours—to give those boys a home and rear them properly.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine, care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Are You Sure It's Love?"

Bob Has No Fallout Room

At a news conference Thursday night, he said he plans no shelter until a federal policy is established leading toward shelters for everyone.

THE STORY: Hilary, eight years old and precocious, has collected odd mementoes of Mrs. Foale, who owns the house in which she is living with Miss Margaret Russell, whose sister, Cornelia, and her husband Philip Byrne, had rented the house, but are now traveling for Cornelia's health.

CHAPTER V
How quiet Hilary was, somewhere in the house. Margaret started to call, inquiringly, and thought better of it. On tiptoe—the worst of children was that sooner or later they reduced you to their own terms—she went in search of Hilary.

Although the hall was dark, because the bulb had blown and the ceiling was so high it would take a human fly to replace it, a line of gold showed under Hilary's door. Margaret wrestled with her conscience so briefly that it could hardly be called wrestling and opened the door without knocking. Hilary, seated at the table with her scrapbook, jumped visibly, closed the book with a snap, pushed back her rocker and turned to face Margaret. Her face was flushed, her eyes bright. "Is dinner ready?"

"No, but it won't be long. Working on your scrapbook?" "Yes," said Hilary, walking rapidly away from it. "Shall I set the table?" "If you like. What do you collect pictures of?" asked Margaret lightly, trying and failing to sound like a fellow scrapbook-keeper.

"Oh, things," said Hilary, and there was no doubt about it; she could not get herself and Margaret out of the room fast enough. And her flushed cheeks, her unnaturally brilliant eyes . . . Margaret's uneasily roving gaze lit on the bed, lumpy again, as though the mattress led some bumbling life of its own. She said firmly, "Whatever you collect, you mustn't cut anything out of Mrs. Foale's magazines." A horrifying thought hit her. "Or books. Hilary, you haven't touched anything of Mrs. Foale's, have you?"

Hilary was already down the hall. She said over her shoulder with dignity, "I have my own magazines. Cornelia bought them for me," and Margaret could not help admiring the adult quality of the evasion.

She must, she thought as she followed, get over her own ridiculous obsession about Mrs. Foale's privacy. People who rented furnished houses to total strangers always undertook a certain amount of risk, not only of cigarette burns and liquor rings but of rampant curiosity. Margaret went into the kitchen to put on the chops.

She fixed her own drink and Hilary's ceremonial tomato juice, which they always had just before dinner in the library—but Hilary said instantly, "Can't we have it in here tonight?" and gave a theatrical shudder. "It's freezing in there."

"Is it? All right," said Margaret. feature will be presented from 4 to 5. Admission is 50c.

Student Escapes Plane Crash

BERRYVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Don Mitchell, a University of Arkansas student from Dermott, escaped unhurt Thursday night from a crash which demolished the light plane he was flying.

The plane plunged into a wooded area 12 miles south of here when the engine failed as Mitchell was switching his fuel supply from one tank to another.

He was flying alone from Fayetteville to Harrison in connection with some National Guard training.

amiably. Hilary had taken something out of the library, then, or disarranged the shelves, and she had probably secreted whatever it was she found.

They had dinner and, after the dishes, a game of checkers which Hilary won handsily. She offered to play again but Margaret glanced at the clock and was firm. "Time for your bath."

Hilary was spindlish about her bath. She collected her pajamas and robe and powder-mitt before she even began to run it, and although Margaret insisted that the door be unlocked while she was actually in the tub, it was locked for long fussy intervals before and after. As Hilary got up to leave the room, Margaret opened her book and reached abstractedly for a cigarette: two minutes later, with the water running behind the bathroom door, she was in Hilary's room.

The mattress had been hastily lifted and dropped, but there was nothing under it now. The scrapbook held, instead of cats or dogs or horses, pictures of people—all Margaret realized bewilderedly as she flicked the pages, in evening or formal daytime dress, and all very handsome. They had been clipped from newspapers and magazines, in color and black and white; recognizable celebrities mingled with sleek befurred or tuxedoed advertising models.

The scrapbook underwent a change toward the end. A burnt match had been carefully taped in, and what looked like either a desiccated moth or a long-pressed flower. Hilary had evidently not known how to affix the folded white handkerchief, brushed lightly with lipstick in one spot and bearing an "I" in forget-me-nots.

No, not quite. A small photograph was stuck into the binding near the end. It showed a man standing on an adobe porch—this porch, from the odd mosaic beside the door, the trickles of ivy, the white iron chair with the lacy heart-shaped back on which he rested one hand.

Margaret picked up the photograph for an incredulous closer look, even though familiarity had leaped at her at once. The man was Philip—Philip with a mustache.

Gnats Invade Alabama Town

Shoppers shielded their eyes against the swarms of tiny, no-biting gnats and brushed them from their hair and from their clothing.

The City Health Department said the pests were harmless and probably were blown in by gusty winds.

After nightfall, the gnats disappeared.

Rayburn's Death Brings Messages

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The death of Sam Rayburn touched off a flood of laudatory messages across the nation, but there was one saddened place where words were few—in the speaker's office.

In the outer room of the two-room suite which Rayburn occupied longer than any other man, members of his staff went about their tasks wordlessly or with the low murmurs of the bereaved.

The silence Thursday was complete in the inner room, dominated by an ornate crystal chandelier strangely out of keeping with the character of the blunt, plain-speaking Texan who labored there for 17 years.

A bolt of black cloth was draped over his high-backed leather chair after word was received that he had died in Texas. A heap of high-yellow chrysanthemums covered his glass top desk. For the rest, the room was much the same as when Rayburn used it.

Despite his long stay there Rayburn had added little in the way of personal touches. A favorite portrait of him hung on a wall. On the mantle behind the desk, propped against a mirror, was a framed photograph of the Rayburn Library in Bonham, Tex.

Across the hall in the big chamber where Rayburn wore out many a gavel trying to keep his House colleagues in order—more silence and another spray of flowers, this one on the speaker's desk, the chair behind it also draped in black.

Members of his staff mostly sat staring into space or pacing idly, looking into their memories of the man whose human side they probably saw more clearly than most politicians.

Finally one broke the silence. Stopping in front of a window and looking at the rain streaming down from leaden skies he said, to no one in particular: "This is a lonesome day."

Can't Expect Ball Control

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A golfer cannot be expected to control the flight of a golf ball, says the Georgia Court of Appeals. Judge Homer C. Eberhardt, in writing the court's opinion on a damage suit, said Thursday that anyone playing golf assumes the risk of being hit by a ball.

The $25,000 damage suit was filed by J. K. Thomas against R. W. Shaw in Albany.

Dog Honored Posthumously

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 7-year-old Boxer dog who helped save a nearby Munhall family from fire has received a posthumous heroism award from the Western Pennsylvania Humane Society.

The dog, "Toots" was the pet of the John Delaney family. It died after rousing the sleeping family from bed when the Delaney home caught fire last Oct. 18.

Bobcats Travel to Arkadelphia Friday Night

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobcats, wrap up their traveling games tonight as they travel to Arkadelphia to meet the District 7A Badgers. Although the Bobcats are favored by one touchdown, this game should be close and interesting since it is Arkadelphia's homecoming.

The Badgers will close their season tonight, thus wrapping up a mediocre year. Along with the Bobcats, Arkadelphia has suffered with many injuries, especially in their backfield. Since the loss of HBs Harrison and Stoker, the Badgers base their offensive attack on the variable QB John Estes. His brother, Paul, teams with Johnny Beard and Boots Nowlin to add up to a strong line. Using an eight-man defensive line they have held many power teams this year, so the Bobcats will probably have to go to the air to break up his defense. Along with other victories this year, Coach S. E. Rogers expect 4AA power Fairview 19-9 early in the season. Offensively and defensively Arkadelphia will be extra tough tonight.

Returning as starters tonight for the Bobcats will be HBs David Pericfield and John Crain adding much needed speed to the backfield. However guard Guy Watkins, out with an operation, will be replaced by Charles Beggs, Jack Caldwell and Tony Purdie. These boys will be substituting at the two guard positions. Tony McLary returns to his old spot, starting as QB, after filling in at HB for the past four games.

Although they are looking toward the Nashville game on Turkey Day, the Cats will be putting all out to whip the Badgers tonight. All who can, should back the Cats in this old rivalry tonight.

John Temple Traded to Baltimore

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland second baseman John Temple, the only player ever selected for the all-star starting lineup in both the National and American Leagues, was traded to the Baltimore Orioles Thursday.

Baltimore gave up Harry Chiti, a catcher in the minors last season, and two players to be named by Dec. 15 to get Temple, who is expected to solve one of the Orioles' problems for the coming season.

Indians' General Manager Gabe Paul, the only man ever to fire Jimmie Dykes as manager twice—at Cincinnati and Cleveland—also became the only man to trade Temple twice.

Paul was general manager of the Cincinnati Reds two years ago when Temple, 32, from Lexington, N.C., came to the Indians from the Reds in exchange for pitcher Cal McLish and infielders Billy Martin and Gordon Coleman.

While at Cincinnati, Temple got National League all-star recognition for four years—1956 through 1959. He was named the American League all-star second baseman last season.

He had a .268 batting average in his first season with the Indians and hit .276 last season, compared with his 10-year major league average of .238.

Chiti, 29, has seen major league service with the Chicago Cubs, the Kansas City Athletics and Detroit Tigers. He batted .201 in 95 games with Detroit in 1960. His over-all major league average is .241.

He spent last season with Denver of the American Association and Rochester of the International League, hitting .294 and .321, respectively.

TRIPLE THREAT

Cajan Classic Led by a 'Golf Bum'

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Ken Still, a self-styled "golf bum" and an unknown on the touring professional circuit, went into the second round of the $15,000 Cajan Classic today tied for the lead with Doug Sanders and Dave Orr.

Still, 26, blistered the soggy, 6,534-yard Oakbourne Country Club course with a 4-under-par 33-34-67 Thursday and set the gallery buzzing: "Who's he?"

"I'm just a golf bum but I love it," exclaimed Still, a Tacoma, Wash., product who turned pro at 18 but almost left the game for the rug cleaning business until nine months ago.

"I shot some 64s and 65s on the Tacoma courses and a group of lawyers decided to sponsor me on the tour. I'll be honest, I haven't got a dime in my name," chuckled the lanky, blond Still. "But those lawyers gave me the chance to do the thing I want to do most."

The 67 was Still's best score to date on the tour.

Sanders, 28, of Cedartown, Ga., swinger who plays out of Ojai, Calif., finished early with his 33-34 and for a while it appeared his score would stand.

Marr, 27, of Houston, Tex. and Sun City, Ariz., shot a 33-34 in quest of his second tournament victory of the year.

Sanders, who needs only $4,000 to surpass Arnold Palmer for second place in total winnings this year, is after his fifth title.

The field will be cut to the top 60 after today's 18 holes. The finals in the 72-hole tournament are set for Sunday.

Chase Ends in Arrest of Two Persons

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Two Missouri men were held today in Neosho, Mo., after a bullet-punctuated 20-mile chase which began when a deputy sheriff sought to make a routine check of their car.

County Atty. Bob Gee said charges of assault with a deadly weapon would be prepared against the men.

The men were identified as Everett Duncan, 23, Goodman, Mo. and A. W. Donohew, 26, Anderson, Mo. They were arrested at a roadblock near Neosho Wednesday night after the pursuing officer, Deputy Frank Charlton, called ahead to Missouri for help.

Undersheriff Tommy Spencer said Charlton saw two men run and drive away in a car when they spotted his patrol unit entering the small town of Wyandotte about 12 miles southeast of here. Charlton was suspicious of this action and tried to halt the car for investigation, Spencer said, but the car would not stop.

Shots were fired at Charlton's car during the pursuit and Charlton returned the fire, Spencer said. No one was injured, but Spencer said two bullets hit the fleeing car and one crashed the deputy's auto.

The weapons during the high-speed chase at the roadblock, Spencer said, were a .38 Smith & Wesson and a .38 S&W. The men offered no resistance of 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. J.

Bowl Fever Hits Many Top Teams

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bowl fever, an annual malady that afflicts most of the nation's top college football teams, is on the rampage again this weekend, testing the strong and striking down the weak.

Georgia Tech and Colorado were victims last week, and while they are not dead yet, the weekend schedule is such that it could cause further trouble to them and some of the hopefuls.

Texas, the nation's top-ranked team second-ranked Alabama and fifth-ranked Minnesota seem to be in the greatest danger, while oncoming Syracuse, ranked 10th, is by no means safe.

The Longhorns, gunning for the host spot New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl, can clinch at least a tie for the Southwest Conference title if they beat Texas Christian.

Alabama, unbeaten in its last 15 games, meets Georgia Tech, which has "revenge" fever, in addition to the bowl malady. The Crimson Tide are casting a fervent eye on the Rose Bowl, while also holding on to the Southeastern Conference's lead with a 5-0 mark. "Bama, 8-0 over-all, is also being coveted by the Sugar Bowl.

Minnesota, winners of six in a row after an opening game loss, pits its Big Ten lead against seventh-ranked Purdue, also on the move after a shaky start. The Gophers, tied with Ohio State for the conference lead with a 5-0 record, have beaten Michigan, Michigan State and Iowa on successive weeks.

Purdue, 5-2, has beaten Iowa and Michigan State but is saddled with a mile-long injury list. A loss would leave third-ranked Ohio State atop the Big Ten. The Buckeyes play nonconference foe Oregon.

Syracuse, back on the track after a rash of injuries, faces Notre Dame, which shook a three-game losing streak last week.

Fourth-ranked Louisiana State, 7-1 over-all and 4-0 in the SEC, plays Mississippi State. Its bowl plans will be better known if it wins. After kayapping thoughts of the Sugar Bowl earlier this week, Mississippi (No. 8) set to go to the Cotton Bowl when it receives the invitation, takes on Tennessee, upset victor over Georgia Tech last week. Michigan State, ranked ninth, meets Northwestern in a Big Ten game that will have no relation to a bowl, while eighth-ranked Colorado still holds the Big Eight lead, and hopes for an Orange Bowl bid, as it faces conference foe Nebraska.

Rutgers, the nation's other major unbeaten at 7-0, plays Colgate.

He was born Jan. 6, 1882, in W. M. Rayburn. The family moved to Texas when Rayburn was 5.

Blevins Sr. Boys Up to Old Tricks

Blevins' senior boys' basketball team is off to a flying start to match last season's record of 31 wins and only 9 losses. To date, the Hornets have won 7 and lost 0 and rolled up 502 points to their opponents' 323.

Coach Bobby Daniels' squad has defeated Emmet twice, 68-36 and 74-39, took Laneburg also two times, 82-50 and 69-42, and bested Spring Hill 74-51, Guernsey 69-52 and Delight 66-53.

Tall (6'7") Harold Smith leads the scoring with 167 points for a 24 point per game average followed by James Honeycutt with 109 points and a 16 point average. Monte Harris is next with 77, Sammy White 45, Kenneth York 43, Gale Carman 18, Danny Woolfolk 17, Johnny Taylor 12, Larry Harper 6 and Gary Avery, has 2.

The Hornets have made 76 free throws out of a possible 128 for 59%. Lettermen from last season are Smith, Honeycutt, Harris and York. Blevins will enter the annual Christmas tournament at Nashville Dec. 11-16 and the county tournament Jan. 22-27. Next game for the Hornets is at Locksburg Tuesday night, Nov. 21.

Blevins senior girls' team have won 3 and lost 4 record so far, taking Laneburg twice 36-27 and 40-36 and Emmet 31-29. Losses have been to Spring Hill 37-36, Guernsey 37-25, Delight 43-33 and Emmet 35-24.

Last season, the senior girls had a won-lost record of 35-4.

Fort Smith Tops in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Fort Smith Grizzlies, champions of the Big Nine Conference and top team in The Associated Press schoolboy football poll, head a list of six teams left unbeaten and untied in prep competition.

Two rounds are left for some schools, one for some, and a few, like Fort Smith, have completed their seasons.

Fort Smith went through 10 games without a slip. Camden is the only unbeaten left in Class AA. The Panthers can wrap up their 10th victory and the Region 4AA championship by beating Smackover Friday night. Then they play El Dorado Thanksgiving Day.

In Class A, Clarksville and Warren are unbeaten and untied in nine games. Clarksville has wound up its season. Crawfordville and Gentry have swept through nine games in Class B.

Porkers' Bowl Hopes Depend on SMU Game

DALLAS (AP)—Arkansas brings its bowl hopes here Saturday for what may be a wet session with Southern Methodist's spread formation Mustangs.

The weather forecast said rain for Friday night, and the soothsayers weren't sure about Saturday. If it rains, SMU's passing attack could be nullified. But so could Arkansas' quick-starting running offense.

The Razorbacks reportedly have a very good chance at a Sugar Bowl bid if they win this game, and Sugar Bowl officials probably will be in the stands.

Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas fears SMU's spread formation and has been working, not too satisfactorily, to get ready to defend against it.

He said after Thursday's workout, which he described as not good, that the coaching staff was concerned and scared about the SMU game.

Broyles reminded that SMU, despite its 2-5 record, controlled the ball considerably against its last two opponents. Quarterback Jerry Rhyme hit on 65 per cent of his passes in the last two games.

Arkansas hasn't lost a November game in four years. The Hogs close with Texas Tech in Little Rock next week.

Arkansas was to fly to Dallas today and workout in the Cotton Bowl this afternoon.

Eldorado's Mooty Is Going Great

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jerry Mooty, El Dorado's jaunty little halfback who is tearing apart all-state honors the way his big brother tore after All-America honors, leads the Big Nine Conference in scoring with 74 points in 10 games.

His brother, Jim, was All-American in 1959 while playing for the Arkansas Razorbacks.

Second to Jerry in the Big Nine is Barry Hughes of Blytheville, who has netted 55.

Fred Hogan of Jonesboro leads Class AA with 126 points and full-back Joe Black of Smackover is second with 115.
